OHIO GUARD RUSHED TO SPRINGFIELD

SPRINGFIELD (O.) March 12.—Race disorders broke out here shortly before midnight last night following the shooting of a policeman by a negro who was being searched for firearms.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Fashionable and unfashionable New York today discussed the Stillman divorce case as the choicest bit of gossip in a long time, and tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock there will be staged one public chapter in the marital affairs of the banker and his wife.

The hearing is before Justice Morschauer in the Supreme Court in Poughkeepsie, and it is on the petition of Mrs. Fifi Anna Urquhart Potter Stillman for alimony and counsel fee.

Attorneys for James A. Stillman, the husband, president of the National City Bank, are going to contest Mrs. Stillman's plea. The hearing also is to decide whether she can amend her petition by citing the grounds of her counter-divorce suit.

STOCKHOLM, March 11.—The fight for Petrograd has again flamed up. Kronstadt's bombardment, which recommenced last night, continuing throughout the day. In intensity the firing surpassed all previous efforts. At Terioki, on the Russo-Finnish border, and other Finnish places the ground was shaken and windows were broken.

The Dagens Nyheter reports that Kronstadt last night by means of signals demanded the immediate surrender of Krasnaya Gorka, on pain of annihilation. During the day Krasnaya Gorka made only feeble reply to the heavy fire from the batteries. Sebastopol and Petrograd were silent.

Voters Swarming into Upper Silesia for Test with Poles for Territory.

Administration to Show Danger Unless Pact With Colombia is Ratified.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The Japanese menace was revealed today as the trump card which the administration expects to spring when the Colombian treaty is brought to a showdown in the Senate next month. By showing there is grave danger that the Japanese will take advantage of the present strained relations between the United States and Colombia to gain a foothold in the Western Hemisphere, administration leaders expect to break down the opposition to the Colombian treaty and bring about prompt ratification of the pact.

LOS ANGELES (Loco Ahng-hay-lay)

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
The Associated Press is a corporation organized for the purpose of publishing and distributing news and information by wire, radio, and other means.

RIGHT IN LINE.

It is reported that ex-Congressman Randall will engage in the business of publishing a prohibition paper in Pasadena. We don't exactly see the need for a prohibition organ, but if there is Randall can play on it. The job fits him like a ten-hour day.

HOURS AND WORK.

Most forms of labor can be put on a piece-work basis or paid for by the hour. Then there wouldn't be so many disputes as to whether a week should consist of forty-four, forty-eight or sixty hours. Many a man who is now demanding a forty-four hour week would be asking for a ten-hour day if he were paid by the hour.

ATTEMPT DODGERS.

German claims that the demands of the Allies mean the complete ruin and immolation of Germany do not worry the French people much. They are afraid that the claims are slightly exaggerated. They would be willing to sit up a couple of nights a week to see a picture of a ruined Germany. And nobody could blame them.

EARTH AND SKY.

Had a smash-up here the other day as the result of a head-on collision between an auto and an airplane. Several persons were brought near to death. Tragedies of traffic are multiplying. When the sky-fliers and the road-rollers meet there is fresh disaster. There may be many such in the future, but they are fortunately rare.

TAKING PRECAUTIONS.

Of course, it may be all right, but it seems a bit strange that Clara Smith Hamon should have as her attorney the twin brother of the judge who is trying the case and as his associate the prosecuting attorney for the county—who was retained by her before his election. Looks as if she might have been casting an anchor to windward, as it were.

GOING DOWN.

There are over 300,000 railroad men out of work as a result of a slump in business. If the rest of them go on a strike to avert any cut in wages there will be a lot of idle men in the country and no very radiant outlook for their relief. The pay of railway workers will have to come down before there can be any lessening of freight and passenger rates. What would be the greatest good to the greatest number?

MADE IN CALIFORNIA.

That eighteen-pound baby born at Terra Bella the other day has been named Warren Harding Emby, after the President. It is declared to be the heaviest child ever born in California—the State which is famous for growing great things. Some might think that being born at Terra Bella had something to do with it, but the name is not as terrible as it sounds. It might easily be translated into Beauty-spot if one cared to be graphic.

MARION MEN.

There is no question about Marion O. being on the map. President Harding will attend to that little matter. His secretary is a Marion man and a neighbor. So is his physician, whom the Senate has just confirmed as a brigadier-general. D. H. Crissinger, who has just been appointed Controller of the Currency, is also a Marion man. It may be admitted at once that Ohio will get her share of the political plums that go with success and that Marion will acquire a little more. Being a country editor, the President was ever a good plunger for his home town.

NEW BROOMS.

We didn't know that the broom-handle makers of America had a national association, but they have. They have also just had a national convention and as a result of their deliberations they announce the belief that for the next five years America will have the greatest real prosperity that the country has ever experienced. Leave it to the broom-handle builders. They know. There is a new broom at Washington and if it sweeps clean the country will feel cheered. Watch the broom-handle makers and the folks who handle 'em. Even the broom-makers say that business is sweeping.

MAID IN VIENNA.

A special Pullman carload of housemaids from Vienna recently arrived under cover of the night at a fashionable suburb of Chicago. They came under contract and nobody seems to know exactly how they came in or how they were spirited so quickly half way across the continent. New York and Boston matrons were grabbing all the hired girls in sight, but these charming Viennese rolled swiftly by. There were said to be a few countesses and baronesses among them, but they all need the money and are qualified for domestic or personal service. They were all appointed before their arrival and before sunup each maid was safely under lock and key in her new home and some society matron was proudly conscious that her servant girl problem was over—for a moment. The girls of Vienna make the finest kind of maids. Any observant woman knows that.

MISS MACSWINEY'S ARGUMENT.

Miss MacSwiney's argument during her addresses in this city and ever since she came to this country has been one and the same—the American government is obligated to recognize the Irish republic because Mr. Wilson's propositions logically approve of it, because the primary business of this government is to be a knight-errant among the nations and because the right to revolution is sacred and one which this government is bound to uphold.

In addition she says that the Irish people are practically united in their demand for independence and have a de facto functioning government. She also speaks with intense bitterness of Americans who have British sympathies.

And yet, if one thing was more fully settled than any other issue of recent years it was that Mr. Wilson had no mandate from the American people when he went to Europe with his fourteen points and that he was overwhelmingly repudiated by both the representatives of our people and then by the people themselves. America flatly refused to underwrite the tangled political situation in the Old World.

Oddly enough, the very man to whose pronouncements Miss MacSwiney and the advocates of verbal intervention in Ireland by our government point absolutely refused to recognize the revolution in Ireland when the matter was put up to him. He said, in effect, what Miss MacSwiney herself said the other night about the Pope and the Irish question: "It is none of his business." Then, too, the American people do not see that the Irish people are agreed as to what they want or can agree, and until such agreement is reached the mere reiteration of the claim of harmony will not convince our general public, which, as contrasted with our government, has a perfect right to side with any people in any movement, spiritual, political or intellectual.

Miss MacSwiney also overlooks one important fact in her appeal for hostile action by our government against the British. America is essentially English and inherently sympathetic with England. This does not mean that America always approves British conduct or that we do not take issue with England on many points. However, it does mean that by blood, by traditions, by culture and by the cementing factors of the recent war, we are close to the English and would be slow to turn against them.

Finally and above all, the doctrine which Miss MacSwiney is preaching in this country is really nothing but that of progressive anarchy. Whenever a people (she says in effect) and particularly a small people, want to revolt against their government and to dismember it the mere fact of such a desire gives them the right to satisfy it and at the same time imposes upon a nation totally distinct from them the obligation to step out into the ring and may before the world. "By all means start a revolution, the more the merrier. We approve." Since this idea of the sacredness of the right to revolt seems to grow more sacred as the people concerned become smaller, the logical result of the adoption of this policy would be the undermining of all governments, including our own.

If a number of the counties can demand that we give them our support in a revolution against their government, why could we not be asked to give approval in case any county in this nation decided for any reason, fantastic or sound, that it wanted to establish its independence?

There is no denying that the American colonies revolted and that the leaders of that revolt risked their necks in it, but they put the revolution across. Having done that they ceased to champion revolution and became advocates of fixity in government. They had to swing about in this fashion because there can be no permanence and no security under a government which is dedicated to progressive anarchy and revolution within revolution. The development of this republic has been from the ideal of the right to revolution to that of an indissoluble union. That had to be its line of development if it was to live and grow.

The Irish turmoil is NOT a problem which the American government can afford to pass upon or in any way obligated to pass upon. The Irish argument of the unlimited and progressive right to revolt is an explosive and a dangerous doctrine and one which is doubly unattractive to this country at a time when the very idea of any government at all is being challenged in so many portions of the globe.

There is a wide difference between an appeal to unofficial public opinion in any nation and an appeal for formal action by that nation against another with which it is intimately associated. So long as the advocates of the Irish revolution confine themselves to exposing the blunders or even the crimes which have been committed against them, this country (which has become almost an open forum for the world) permits them to talk on as long as they please and to make as many individual converts as they can. But the American government should not get into a controversy, either verbal or military, with another government UNLESS THE INTERESTS OF THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES ABSOLUTELY REQUIRE IT.

Governments are set up not to serve the world, but to serve their own people. This may sound like a brutal statement of policy, but it is true nevertheless. There are all kinds of organizations and institutions for sponsoring and encouraging that whirl of ideas and new aspirations out of which most of what we call progress is born. A government is not one of them. The business of government is not free-lancing nor philanthropy nor spreading ideas nor spawning other governments made in its own image. The business of government is to hold something safe—that something is the administrative machinery and the cultural institutions under which its people live.

WILD BLADES.

Already at Sacramento one of the large gas corporations has presented its brief before the commission asking authority to increase its service charges in order to cover its share of the levies made upon the utility corporations under the King tax bill. The corporations will have to furnish the $1,000,000 exacted as a penalty by the politicians, but it will all come directly from the pockets of the people just the same. There can be no disguise or subterfuge. If the legislators were to go their wild length citizens would be paying a 10-cent car fare to cover some of their extravaganzas.

DEMOCRATIC BIGOTRY.

It is regrettable that many weeks will be required to clear away the debris left behind by the late Democratic administration before real progress on the work of reconstruction can be recorded. Among the last official acts of President Wilson were his vetoes of the tariff and immigration acts. Nearly three months' time was expended by the last Congress in deliberating upon these measures. Republican leaders in both houses proceeded slowly and with due caution lest acts hastily adopted might contain provisions that, when put to the test, would aggravate the evils they were intended to remedy. The sentiment of the country was outspoken in favor of both bills. There could be no honest doubting that the people desired adequate protection alike for American labor and for the products of its labor. Yet the last Democratic President—perhaps those words are prophetic—relapsed at the crucial moment into that narrow partisanship which places the will of a group before the public will and vetoed both bills.

We of California will long remember that the last act of the Democratic administration was to tear down the barrier against cheap labor and cheap goods that a Republican Congress had erected. The Japanese peaceful invasion of the deep-soiled valleys and fertile plateaus of California continues; while the American workmen in the industrial centers of the East are forced to bid for employment against immigrants who know naught of American standards of living. The returned soldier is left to compete for a job with the men against whom he fought to preserve free institutions from autocratic spoliation and radical taint. Every month more than 50,000 men out of employment are landed at eastern ports, under the additional weight of a growing army of the unemployed. And the former President and the southern Democrats combined to defeat the restricted immigration bill.

Fruits from our famous California orchards are piled high in ravines and by the wayside. The American market for which they were grown is closed to them by the reason of the dumping of citrus fruit from Mediterranean ports. Areas of California cotton lands will lie fallow, for the eastern market is glutted with shipments from Egyptian ports. Wild grass will grow for a season over bean lands that, but for the veto of the tariff bill, would supply labor to thousands and yield a wealth of millions.

Spiders will weave their webs about hundreds of spiders in the great cotton and woolen mills of the East, while steel plants and automobile factories will be operated on half-day schedules. Agriculture and industry will be compelled to mark the time until the new Congress can be convened in special session and the work of reframing those bills and re-enacting them is finished. And quick work will not be possible; for the rules of both houses are framed for the purpose of guarding against hasty action. The usual minority of southern Democrats will be there to impede and delay at every turn; and they will be actively seconded by the Tammany delegation from New York. Old free trade arguments will be rehearsed, while a million workmen are idle and industry waits. One of the inescapable penalties of affording just protection to the rights of labor is that the very uncertainty of the future legislation will make it impossible for farmers to borrow the money for the spring planting; and the eastern manufacturer will not be able to get advances sufficient to cover the manufacture of products for which there is no present market. Prosperity was not destroyed by the veto of those measures so necessary to the economic prosperity of our industrial classes; but it has been delayed for a season.

These things will pass. The will of the American people is stronger than the opposition of the Democratic party. American ports will be open to the returning immigrants. The Japanese invasion of the agricultural lands of California will cease. The pay envelope of the American workman will be protected by covering with a protective tariff the products of his labor. American standards of living will be preserved by protecting our workmen from the unrestricted competition of those who neither live in houses built of dressed lumber, eat meat nor wear more than a breech cloth.

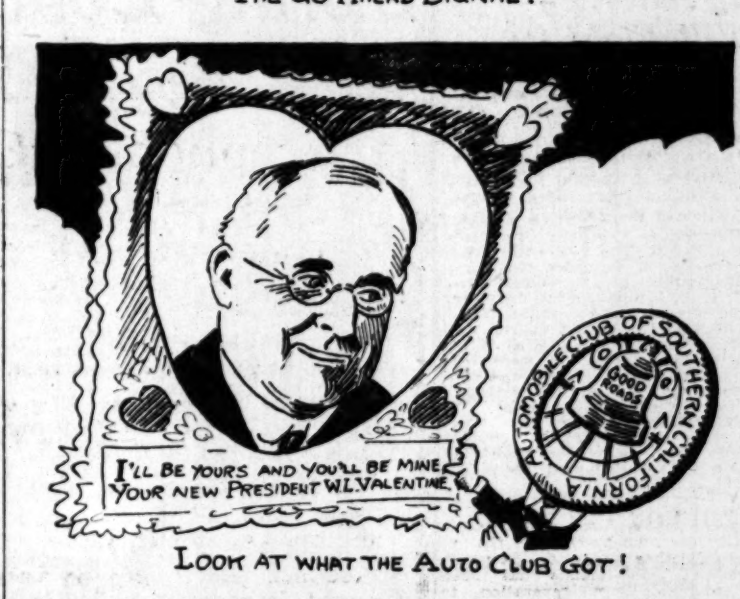

But the products of a season will be sacrificed to a great extent by reason of the delays. A tariff passed in June will not protect the fruit in any way until January. The very uncertainty of the future legislation will make it impossible for farmers to borrow the money for the spring planting; and the eastern manufacturer will not be able to get advances sufficient to cover the manufacture of products for which there is no present market. Prosperity was not destroyed by the veto of those measures so necessary to the economic prosperity of our industrial classes; but it has been delayed for a season.

SARTORIAL ETHICS.

France may be a republic, but Paris insists upon complete distinction, sartorially speaking. Her smart and expensive restaurants make full evening dress obligatory, and one of them was recently the scene of a wild disturbance because a gentleman in a lounge suit, albeit he was wearing several war decorations, insisted upon his right to enter and to dance. He was accompanied by two ladies in street clothes and the management refused them to sit at a remote table on the strict understanding that they would not dance. But when the jazz band started, the graceless lounge suiter stepped forth with a street-clothes partner—and the management hurried up in blue to stop the disgraceful sartorial display. The lounge suiter protested violently. So thereafter, whenever the day-clothed visitors dined, the band stopped playing. Then there was a riot. Other people in outdoor clothes forced their way in to "fight to make the Paris restaurants safe for democracy." It ended with a strictly temporary victory for the invaders, the management declaring they would "never lower their standards for correct dress," and insinuating that their doors would merely be better guarded in the future.

Which recalls the fact that the London theaters are also stern on the subject of full dress in the stalls and during the war there were many ferocious arguments because Tommies in the uniforms of a private—often men of means and distinguished families—were barred from the stalls. It is not so difficult to associate this sort of thing with a monarchy, but somehow it conflicts with all our ideas of a republic, and especially and particularly of that republic of France which flaunts "liberty, fraternity and equality" banner so proudly and paid so big a price for it. It all sounds so childish, so entirely unreasonable.

An aristocracy of wealth is bad enough, but an aristocracy of clothes seems peculiar.

RIPLING RHYMES.

AMBITIOUS WIVES.

I've seen some husbands wet with tears who might have learned to sing and dance, had but their wives, the dimpled dears, but given them a decent chance. I'm thinking now of Hiram Hick, who preaches hard against the hames, and life's a glid-ge because his wife has "social aims." She gives a party every week, or riot of some other kind; and Hiram sees his troubles laid, she makes his assets hard to find. A tax to honor Mrs. Jones may be the proper thing to give, but Hiram's shy a hundred bones, and wonders why some females live. His wife must have a costly gown appropriate to each event; and Hiram totters through the town, and smokes a torch that cost a cent. He makes good money every year, and if his wife would mend her ways he well might read his title clear to Easy street and happy days. But she must trot with richer folk, and mingle with the Upper Ten, and so poor Hiram's always broke and sighing for lost iron men. But in his grief he's not alone; a million husbands tot and spin, and every time they earn a bone their wives go forth to blow it in. A million hands drudge and slave and toil along on weary feet; and if their wives would help them save, they all might dwell in Easy street. WALT MASON.

WHEN IS A VILLAGE.

BY R. M. McCABE.

Prune peddlers littering up the sidewalks and bothering the more or less hurried pedestrians by sticking their wares in front of the noses of said pedestrians and reminding them of a recent breakfast.

Picture post-card purveyors taking up a large section of the bustling corners with their goods-box counters and shrieking the merits of their merchandise into the ears of the already afflicted.

Fashionable females, herds and with banners, tickets, pledges, petitions, free excursions or pretty pictures, trying to make their voices heard above the clatter and the noise of the city.

Picnic parties and family reunions held by couples, trios, quartets, octets in the exact center of the sidewalk, forcing passers-by to walk in the street or jump over.

Hurrying husbands, both sexes, dashing wildly on the left side, right side, wrong side, center of the walks, adding to the confusion of those who have been brought up in town and taught that their side is the right side.

Daring damsels jay-walking down, up and across the busiest streets, defying the laws of decency and modesty.

Street-car steersmen incessantly clanging bells, evidently trying to make more noise than a flock of fire engines out for a practice run on country-fair day.

Startling signs advertising everything from hang-nail removers to free trips to paradise, occupying large space and gumming up the cement that has been put down and allowed to harden so that it can be walked on.

Juggernauting juveniles behind the steering wheels of misguided trucks, dashing down the streets honking horns and wearing anticipatory smiles, indicating a hope that someone won't get out of the way.

All conditions that might exist in towns less well-served than ours, where we believe that:

Establishments should be sold in stores. People wanting newspapers know enough to buy them at the newsstand. Their cars should be well-oiled and intelligent, their toes walked on and their eyes offended.

Picture postcards should be sold in stationary shops. "Drive" is over, and there are lots of folks on the streets who object to being constantly urged to take a ride to Pughtown, sign a petition to make Higgins tear down his new twenty-story building, take a chance on a raffle or buy a ticket to a benefit for the hungry turkeys of Northwest Texas.

After a city reaches a certain size the middle of the sidewalk is not the place to stage a reunion and celebrate "Old Home Week."

Congestion problems are solved when people walk on the side of the walk that was intended for them.

Jay-walking is all right where there is nothing but unbroken prairie to walk on.

There is no especial occasion for every street car but on business to try to outdo the noisiest bell or noisiest fire engine.

Advertising signs have no business standing out on the sidewalks interfering with those who really have.

Life and limb are more important than the immediate delivery of a nickel's worth of cheese.

So, as our fair city flourishes and grows, let us bear in mind that it is not always best to permit things to be a city that might very well be allowed in a village.

DIRECT PRIMARIES A WASTE.

A government that is quickly responsive to public opinion and that truly represents the will and the purpose of the major portion of the electorate will best be obtained by fixing the mind of an electorate once, and once only, upon the choice of a suitable incumbent for a given public office. There should never be but one election, and that the final and definite one, if public interest is to be fully aroused, public cooperation most largely developed and the public will most fully expressed.

Access to the ballot for use in the final election should be open on equal terms to any candidate sufficiently supported by a body of non-partisan voters, whether that body be an organized political party or not, to justify the state in going to the trouble and expense of submitting the name to the electorate. The ballot should not be so discriminating either in favor of political parties or against them, but should put every nominee before the electorate under like conditions.

How a given political party proceeds to select its nominee is no more a matter to be controlled by statute than the method by which the Methodist Episcopal Church selects its bishops. The notion that party organizations and party "bosses" are troubled or interfered with by direct primary laws is a colossal joke.—[Forum.]

Mary's Little Slam.

Mary was frankly bored. She tried this way and that until even the minister was conscious of a wriggling blue bow. She climbed up on the seat and made faces—horrible goblin faces—at the sedate little person in the pew behind her, but who, remembering the occasion, made no answering grimace.

Mary's innings were yet to come. In the midst of the long, solemn prayer her shrill little voice was raised in protest: "Aw, come on, let's go home. This ain't no fun."

And Mary went.—[New York Evening Post.]

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

SALT LAKE CITY, March 11.—

Two more claimants as heirs to the $400,000 estate of Col. Jacob

Baker were announced here today.

They are H. R. Baker, a Western Pacific Railway conductor and Thomas

W. Hemphill, manager of Hemphill

Brothers' Automobile and Tractor

School. Mr. Baker said that Col.

Baker was his great-great uncle and that he understands there are about 300 claimants seeking a share of the estate.

On the heels of the foregoing announcement of two more Baker estate heirs being located at Salt Lake

City, four additional claimants to the supposed $400,000 estate were located yesterday in this city and

Pasadena, and on top of this swelling of the list of heirs here to a total of twelve there comes a letter from the Bank of North America of Philadelphia, which is supposed to be trustee or administrator for the vast fortune, which says that the fortune is a legend and which refers to the supposed head of the long line of heirs as "This mythical Col.

Baker."

Not only is the Baker inheritance called a myth in the bank's letter, but the communication says that the Baker story has recurred so often that for more than thirty years the bank has kept on hand a large supply of a form letter denying any knowledge of the Baker fortune.

Both He and Wife Regain Health by Taking Tanlac.

And Have Made Remarkable Gains in Weight.

Is Pleasure to Indorse It, He Says.

If any one has more cause than another to be glad they were induced to give Tanlac an honest trial it is surely Chas. E. Brown of 506 W. 49th St., Los Angeles. While discussing Tanlac recently, Mr. Brown made the remarkable statement that the medicine has not only built him up forty pounds in weight and put him in fine condition, but has also restored his wife's health and increased her weight twenty pounds.

"In March, 1918," said Mr. Brown, "I had an acute attack of gastritis while in a hotel in Seattle, Wash., and was very sick in a hospital for a week. After getting out my stomach continued in very bad condition and I was yellow like I had the jaundice. Gas formed in my stomach and it caused me terrible pain, and I got where I was afraid to eat scarcely a thing. I could find nothing to help me, and the way I lost weight was alarming, for I went down from two hundred and twenty to one hundred and eighty pounds.

"It certainly seems remarkable, but Tanlac has given me a splendid appetite and has actually built me up to my old weight of two hundred and twenty pounds. I'm enjoying the very best of health now, and am feeling fine.

"A few months ago my wife was feeling weak and run-down, and I got her to try Tanlac also. Well, it has built her up so you would scarcely believe it, for she has actually gained twenty pounds in weight, and says she feels fine all the time now. It's a pleasure to me to give a statement for Tanlac, for I'm endorsing a medicine that I believe will do all that's claimed for it."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Stores.—[Advertisement.]

TAKES SWAT AT MARSHALL PLAN

Geological Survey Has Not Given its Indorsement.

Pasadena Considers Another Big Bond Issue.

Boy Scouts Organize to Aid Fire Department.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) PASADENA, March 11.—E. C. LaRue, hydraulic engineer of the United States Geological Survey, in charge of the Pasadena office, today made public a letter from George Otis Smith, director of the Geological Survey, saying that the survey has not indorsed the Marshall plan for utilizing the waters of California for irrigation, water power and municipal supplies. Director Smith issued the letter because of prominence given Col. Marshall's connection with the Geological Survey, LaRue stated.

Director Smith's letter states that neither the United States Geological Survey nor any member of its staff has initiated, seriously considered, or indorsed the Marshall plan, either as a whole or in any part of its important details, nor has the survey's work been directed to a solution of any of the problems involved.

The Marshall plan has been receiving much attention in the northern part of the State.

BOND ISSUE PLANNED. A new municipal bond issue of $500,000, of which the city light department and the city farm will be the beneficiaries, may be voted at the municipal elections in April. C. W. Kooser, manager of the light department, presented needs of the department to the City Commission today, which led the commission to give consideration to the submitting of a bond issue to the voters in April. Final decision will be made next Tuesday. A rise in city light rates also is contemplated.

SCOUTS AS FIREMEN. Boy Scouts of Pasadena will be organized as auxiliary firemen, according to new plans of the organization. They will assist the fire department in preventing and fighting fires. The new plan has the indorsement of Chief E. F. Coop of the fire department, who will train the boys. It is not proposed to subject the Scouts to any of the dangers of the actual fire fighting, however.

WEST'S ORANGES FAVORED. California oranges are favored in the East above oranges from any other part of the world, declared L. F. Russell, former president of the local Merchants Association, who has just returned from an eastern trip. He says California's fruit is not only liked best by consumers, but that the trade favors it because it is so well packed and shipped.

CLOSE SUCCESSFUL CHURCH CONFERENCE.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) POMONA, March 11.—One of the most successful conferences ever held in Southern California by the Methodist Church, South, concluded at noon today at the Holt Avenue Methodist Church. Bishop H. M. Dubose of Berkeley, who presided at the session of the conference, urged among other things that the members build a new church in this city. Addresses at the closing session were also made by Rev. Shuler, pastor of the Trinity Church of Los Angeles; Rev. Gray, president of this district; and Dr. F. M. Sanderson, trade commissioner from China.

LOW BIDS SURPRISE OFFICIALS.

Figures Submitted to Permit City to Complete Building; Other News Notes.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) LONG BEACH, March 11.—When the City Commissioners opened bids today on construction of the proposed new City Hall, the figures were found to be so low that hopes for completion forthwith of the entire structure as originally planned, with all the floors finished and furnished throughout, are entertained. The lowest bid was that of Edwards, Wilde & Dean of Los Angeles, who offered to build the eight-story structure for $337,335. Bonds in the amount of $400,000 were voted for the City Hall. The bids provide for leaving all but the first, second and top floors in the rough, but city officials believe the surplus on hand will be enough to finish and furnish the entire building.

NO INQUEST. It was said tonight that probably no inquest will be held over the body of Mrs. Ella Jane Beagley, 62 years of age, who died last night at 326 East Third street from an overdose of veronal, taken either accidentally or with suicidal intent. Her husband, Hugh Beagley, denied today that a note written by his wife showed she planned to kill herself, and said he thought the overdose was taken accidentally. The couple came here a year ago from Los Angeles, where their children reside. Mrs. Beagley took the poison which proved fatal on Wednesday afternoon. Death followed a long sleep caused by the opiate.

Police Chief Ben McLendon today issued a warning to physicians because of the fact that the doctor who failed to attend Mrs. Beagley did not report her case. The police learned of it through the undertaking firm of Grote & Comer.

INJURIES FATAL. Samuel Poose of Long Beach, who was frightfully injured when a hook attached to a crane tore into his flesh and swung him through the air yesterday at the Southwestern shipyard, died at Seaside Hospital today from injuries and shock. He was 25 years old and leaves a widow.

FATAL ACCIDENTS AT THE HARBOR.

TWO WORKMEN KILLED IN INDUSTRIAL PLANTS AT SAN PEDRO.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) LOS ANGELES HARBOR, March 11.—Two fatalities have resulted from accidents in local industrial plants during the last twenty-four hours, the victims passing away within a few hours of each other.

Samuel Poose, a mechanic in the employ of the Southwestern Shipbuilding Company, died at the Seaside Hospital at 8 o'clock this morning from injuries received in an accident at the shipyard yesterday. Poose was busy repairing an electric crane, when it was bumped by another crane and the mechanic was crushed between the two cranes. He was badly injured internally, passing away this morning. He is survived by a widow residing at Long Beach.

The second fatality occurred at 1:30 p.m. today, caused by a defective clutch on a crane at the Baxter & Jordan pole-trading plant at Wilmington Park. John Montgomery, aged 47, of 1539 Rubard street, Wilmington, was instantly killed in the accident.

Montgomery was working as hook tender on the crane with W. L. Hodge of 1114 Broad avenue, Wilmington. Two twenty-foot poles were suspended in the air by the crane when Montgomery stepped beneath the poles. At that moment the clutch slipped and the heavy poles dropped on Montgomery, crushing his head and resulting in his instant death.

The body was taken to the Goodrich Undertaking Parlor and the Coroner notified. Montgomery is survived by a widow and five children, two of whom are married. He had been employed at the Baxter and Jordan plant for six years.

BEBE'S CASE GOES OVER TO MARCH 28.

FAMOUS SPEEDER SPARS FOR TIME—NAME FOUNDING FOR EMANCIPATOR.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) SANTA ANA, March 11.—The celebrated case of the people of the State of California versus Bebe Daniels, Hollywood film star, previously set for trial on St. Patrick's Day, has been postponed to March 28, at the request of Miss Daniels's attorney. It was announced today by Justice J. R. Cox.

The continuance was granted because of Attorney W. I. Gilbert being engaged with another case in Los Angeles on the 17th. However, the star's fame as a speeder has spread afar and there is evidently widespread suspicion that she is soon due for a few days' visit here, as the local postoffice has already received two letters addressed to Bebe Daniels, Santa Ana. One letter was sent general delivery, while the other, postmarked Newton, Iowa, was sent care of Justice Cox.

NAMED HIM ABE.

Abraham Lincoln is the name given the baby boy found on the doorstep of Dr. Wilella Waffie here four weeks ago. The name was bestowed because he was found on the birthday of the great emancipator. Despite the exposure, the babe has thrived and has gained a pound since being taken to the local hospital. He now weighs six pounds and is reported to be getting along just fine. Several offers to adopt him have already been made.

IMPROVEMENT REPORT

To Widen Santa Monica Street will Cost $425,000.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) SANTA MONICA, March 11.—Report of the commission on what the Santa Monica officials hold is the biggest public improvement ever undertaken here, the opening and widening of Main street, was placed on file today. The total cost of the improvement is estimated by the committee at $425,000, not including the cost of the paving or the erection of a viaduct, which will be built across the Colorado-avenue artery, which will mean an expenditure of $100,000 more.

The result of the improvement will be to make Main street eighty feet wide. It will be extended north of Pico Boulevard, across the Southern Pacific lands, just east of the Elks' clubhouse and for some distance north.

Jury Will Decide Case, is Judge's Ruling; Marriage of Dr. Mohn Held Legal.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH
SAN DIEGO, March 11.—Judge Cary today denied the defendant's motion for nonsuit in the alienation-of-affections case brought by Mrs. Irene Mohn against Mrs. Katherine Tingley, theosophical leader, and the case will go to the jury.

After two days and a half of argument for and against the non-suit motion offered by A. J. Morganster, attorney for Mme. Tingley, Judge Cary this morning denied the motion on all of the three counts offered by counsel.

The court's ruling on the validity of the marriage of Dr. and Mrs. Mohn was that it was valid in California and that California must recognize other State laws and therefore Mrs. Mohn has the right to sue as the wife of Dr. Mohn. The defendant's counsel had argued that the marriage was not valid, as at the time of the marriage the year for interdictory degree had not elapsed. This law was not in force at the time of the marriage, it was known by evidence, and the pair were married in Arizona.

The question of the statute of limitation brought by the defendant was also overruled by Judge Cary, who held that the time for the year elapsing for the statute of limitation of trial began with the separation of Dr. and Mrs. Mohn and not from the time of the trial written about the separation by Dr. Mohn. He also denied that the evidence was sufficient in records to deny the right to take the case to the jury.

Following the ruling of Judge Cary, Attorney Morganster, for the defendant, announced that they would present their case to the jury without putting on any further testimony and asked that the trial be continued until Monday morning. At that time the attorneys will begin their arguments.

FINAL "IOLANTHE"
RENDITION TONIGHT.

The final performance of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "Iolante," will be given by the California Opera company at Philharmonic Auditorium this evening. The favor with which William G. Stewart's new organization has been received augurs well for the establishment of a permanent institution. The audience has increased in proportions ever since the opening performance, and this evening's gathering of music lovers at Philharmonic should be the largest one of the engagement.

The singing of Mme. Pavlova, Basil Ruydael, Marie Horgan, Edwin Stevens and others in the cast gives an atmosphere of metropolitan excellence to the performance, while the choral and orchestral sections appear unusually adequate.

LOUISE DRESSER
GOING IN FILMS.

Louise Dresser, well-beloved Orpheum star, and now a resident of Glendale—when she is at home—will return from New York tomorrow with a contract in her pocketbook to go into pictures. Miss Dresser has hitherto avoided the screen, but husband Jack Gardner has formed a new company to do two-reelers with Willard Louis as co-star, and the blond Louise is thus to be lost to Orpheum audiences for a while at least.

The comedies will be made here, of course, so that the Glendale hangover will be of use to the way of telegraphic request, for their permanent home.

Just who will be associated with the new organization, in the way of director, unless Gardner fills that job is not disclosed, nor how soon pictures will be started, but details probably will be made known when the Dresser-Gardner family assembles again Sunday.

START MOVE TO RELEASE BOLD YANKS.

Business Men Oppose Idea of Trial in German Court for Bergdoll Pursuers.

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon in room 603, Merchants' National Bank Building, steps were taken to have Los Angeles join the nationwide movement to extend aid to Sergis. Frank Zimmer and Carl Naef, who are about to be tried in Germany for attempting to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, millionaire draft evader, in Eberbach, Germany, on January 15.

Sixty business and professional men were present, and it was decided to try to bring enough pressure to bear at Washington to get this government to compel the release of the prisoners. In addition, money will be sent to Germany to provide a defense fund.

Capt. S. M. Spaulding, who presided, stated that all patriotic organizations are ready to support such a movement, but that there must be no delay in the matter, as the men will go on trial shortly. If, indeed, their trial has not already begun. Nelson Douglas was selected to handle the money received for the defense fund.

The latest dispatches from Germany on the subject stated that the two Denver soldiers, who were arrested while pursuing Bergdoll, after the latter had failed to surrender at the point of a pistol, would be tried during this week. As no information has been received since that concerning them, it is assumed by those who are watching the situation in this country, that the men are either being tried secretly or the trial has been quietly postponed in the hope that American feeling will subside sufficiently to prevent intervention by the United States government on behalf of its imprisoned soldiers.

WILL CONTINUE IN MUSIC.
Irene Pavieska, the mezzo soprano, announced her intention of continuing her musical appearances. "I have no intention of going into picture work," she said. "My engagement with the California Opera Company will demand my time for the present, and I have a series of recital engagements to fill."

DRINKS COME HIGH.
The drinks Jefferson G. Moffitt took on December 1, when he was arrested for driving an automobile while intoxicated, cost him $100 yesterday when Judge Willis fined him that sum. The fine was paid and the defendant released.

BLIND MUSICIAN TO PLAY.
Distinctive interest will be lent to the program next week at Grauman's Theater by the appearance of Alan Spurr, a blind musician, who has been engaged to demonstrate his musical accomplishments. Although blind even at that age, he began to play the piano at two and a half years. He showed talent for composition at 6. He now understands six different instruments, among them the violin and the organ.

GUARD AGAINST PENCIL FRAUDS.

Workers in Charity Sale to Wear Official Badges.

Society Women Will Assist Nursery Benefit Drive.

Children from St. Elizabeth Institution to Help.

Assuring the general public of protection against impostors during the pencil sale to be conducted by the St. Elizabeth Day Nursery Tuesday and Wednesday, the 15th and 16th inst., it is announced by one of the directors of the institution that all campaign workers on those dates will wear an official badge showing their authority to sell the pencils.

Each campaign worker will also be provided with a license, signed by the Social Service Commission, and will have special receipts upon which sales are to be recorded.

The Los Angeles police will exercise careful supervision upon the two days of the sale to further guard against any interference from impostors.

READY FOR SALES.
Everything is in readiness for the sale, funds from which will go toward the maintenance and upkeep of the nursery, at 123 North Anderson street, where from seventy-five to 100 little children are left each day in the care of the kindly matron, while their mothers are away at work.

An enthusiastic corps of prominent women who have the greatest philanthropy at heart is enlisted for active participation in the campaign, and at stations in banks and other central locations they will offer pencils next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The pencils, it is announced, will cost but 10 cents each, their actual selling price at stationery stores where they are held in stock.

KIDNED TO HELP.
One interesting feature planned for the campaign will be the part the kidnapers themselves will take in the pencil selling. In a huge truck, secured through the courtesy of Mrs. William R. Rowland, one of the directors, a group of the children from the St. Elizabeth Day Nursery, under the supervision of a nurse, will hold an informal campaign, each child carrying a sign which reads "I was kidnaped to help the St. Elizabeth Day Nursery."

From every section of the city the nursery campaign is now being blazoned forth through the medium of many billboards contributed to the directors of the institution by Foster & Kleiser Company. A number of these are being illuminated.

LIBERAL AID.
At the various selling stations and in windows about the city publicity is being given the pencil sale through the attractive posters contributed through the courtesy of Hamilton Bowman Hollins Jr.

It is three years since the St. Elizabeth Day Nursery has duped the public to aid in the support of the institution. The need now is urgent and a general public whose heart is little child may knock in vain, is asked to "please buy a pencil" next Tuesday or Wednesday in order to lend a helping hand to this great and worthy charity.

MORE OFFICE SEEKERS.

Two additional candidates in local primaries.
Two additional candidates for places on the May 3 city primaries took out blank petitions yesterday at City Hall, making the total applicants to date for all offices, thirty-two. Those taking out papers yesterday were both seeking places on the Board of Education, and were St. Joseph York (incumbent) and M. C. Bettinger.

Mountain Climbers Indorse Campaign of Optimism.

At the Annual Dinner of the Sierra Madre Club Last Night. The favors are small replicas of the large sign-post in the center.

SIERRA CLUB GIVEN A NEW GUIDE POST.

"Greater Southern California, Straight Ahead," Motif of Annual Dinner.

Pointing out that a great inspirational impulse is back of the "Greater Southern California, Straight Ahead" campaign, and explaining its basic idea, Chester Versteeg, local attorney, commended the campaign last night to the serious consideration of the southern division of the Sierra Club, at its annual banquet in the City Club dining hall.

The Sierra Club has kept pace with Southern California, in its march of progress, said he, "and since one of its aims is to get the greatest measure of benefit out of what God has given us to enjoy, we may well take the campaign slogan seriously to heart."

The club had a rollicking good time, singing songs and listening to snappy addresses by members. Phil R. Bernice declared that there are three kinds of people in the club—those who have been to the high Sierras, those who have been as far as Old Baldy, and those who have paid their dues.

A large sign post, bearing the "Greater Southern California, Straight Ahead" slogan, was used as a guide post at the entrance to the dining-room, and miniature sign posts were used as favors.

FOR TRAGEDY VICTIMS.

Double funeral is a sequel to killing and suicide.
Chaplain Herring of the County Hospital and Mrs. Emily Hivley, worthy matron of the Eastern Star, conducted a double funeral at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Smith & Bagley mortuary for Lewis W. Rose and Daisy D. Rose, the wife he shot and fatally wounded just before taking his own life last Sunday night.

Mrs. Rose, who was employed at the County Hospital, died in that institution Monday. She was 29 years old and her husband was two years her senior. They lived at 1033 North Alvarado street, where the tragedy was enacted.

In addition to her mother, Mrs. Emma Gilmore, Mrs. Rose leaves a son by a former marriage, Norman King. Mr. Rose had been employed as an electrician but lost his position a few weeks ago and was in reduced circumstances.

The bodies were laid side by side in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

BADLY-WANTED MAN ARRESTED.

STORY OF CRIME.
Seven men were in the band, the prisoner said. The details by which the automobile in which they rode collided with that of Sly and Fanner on the bridge over the Nickel Plate Railroad at West Forty-seventh street were all carefully planned and executed.

The second automobile, which was waiting at the other end of the bridge to insure the getaway, arrived almost simultaneously with the first.

Purposers, the prisoner said, was the one who actually fired the shots which killed Sly and Fanner.

Seizing the pay roll amounting to $4200, which the two men were taking to the plant of the W. W. Sly Manufacturing Company, a short distance away, the bandits escaped in the second automobile.

Detectives under Inspector Sterling the same night located the automobile used in the escape at a downtown garage. The first car, which collided with the Sly-Fanner car, was later found to be one stolen the same day from Fred H. Goff, president of the Cleveland Trust Company, while it stood in front of the bank building and while Goff conversed with a friend not more than six feet away.

Less than forty-eight hours afterward two suspects were taken by Inspector Sterling and held on suspicion. At their arraignment in police court, at the request of the police, bail was set in each case at the unprecedented figure of $70,000. Within an hour it was furnished.

The police presented their evidence to Prosecutor Stanton, who summoned all witnesses before the grand jury, but that body decided there was not sufficient evidence to warrant returning a true bill and the prisoners were released.

Immediately Inspector Sterling caused circulars to be distributed throughout the police department of practically every city in the United States. The movements of every man with a police record were checked up.

Business associates of the dead men, industrial associations and the county commissioners then joined in offering rewards which finally totaled $1500 for the apprehension of the murderers.

The word from Los Angeles tonight caused the assignment of practically every city detective as well as every uniformed man to the task of locating the other suspects. All night police in automobiles combed every known haunt of the men sought.

Woodland Heights, New City, is to be Launched Today

Woodland Heights, near Burbank, a new Southern California city, will be launched today at noon with appropriate ceremonies following the serving of a huge barbecue to several thousand visitors from Los Angeles and surrounding cities.

L. E. Behrmer will act as master of ceremonies, C. I. D. Moore, vice-president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, will be one of the speakers. Serafin Pin, Spanish baritone, will sing, and a number of musical selections will be offered by a group of fifteen musicians from the Philharmonic orchestra.

Jose Romero has been engaged to prepare and serve the barbecue from his outdoor kitchen and trenches. Charles Morgan of the Los Angeles Elks will have charge of the luncheon. The founders of the new city expect to entertain from 2000 to 3000 visitors.

Plans of the development company will completely transform the 3000 acres formerly known as the Oliver Stouck Ranch, lying along the southern foothills of the Verdugo Mountains and overlooking the San Fernando Valley.

Twenty acres have been reserved for the building of a civic center and 10 per cent of the purchase price of the residence and business lots will be used to construct all necessary buildings in the civic center.

SHERIFF HAS NO JOBS TO OFFER.

Applicants and Force Told Shake-up Not Planned.

Traeger Thinks He May Not Need Undersheriff.

Steward Chosen to Oversee Jail Food Purchases.

Those who hope to punch the clock in the Sheriff's office may have to wait a long time, if they expect a number of changes there, it was announced yesterday by Sheriff Traeger. It was announced emphatically by the Sheriff that at present he contemplates no shake-up in the personnel of the Sheriff's office or of officials at the County Jail.

"I have had a number of men mentioned to me as possible appointees as Undersheriff," said the Sheriff, "but I do not know at this time that I want an Undersheriff. I asked the Board of Supervisors if such an appointment might await my need for such an officer here, and the Supervisors said that would be up to me. At present no one will be appointed as Undersheriff."

"There is only one thing I require in the Sheriff's office, and that is efficiency. I have in mind no changes of the personnel in the office and at present I see no reason for any change. Politics will play no part in the conduct of the office and those who are seeking appointment as well as those in the office, might as well know that I am not expecting to make any changes at present."

Plans were gone into yesterday to put the feeding of prisoners in the County Jail on a business basis. Charles Gassagne was appointed steward of the jail co-operating with Deputy Sheriff Larimer, who has had eighteen years' experience in purchasing food supplies. Mr. Gassagne will organize the County Jail purchasing and dining-room service.

OLD ENEMIES IN TIE.

Great Britain and Germany Each Furnish Fourteen Citizens.

Subjects of Great Britain and Germany ran neck and neck in the list of applications for American citizenship before U. S. District Judge Trippett yesterday. Fourteen subjects of each of these nations renounced allegiance to their former homelands.

Austria followed as a good third, with eleven; Netherlands, three; Switzerland, two; Russia, two; Italy, three; Turkey, two; Sweden, two, and one each from Norway and France, a total of fifty-five.

Two young women who served as Army nurses during the World War were granted American citizenship, and several men were rejected because they dodged the Selective Service Act by putting forth the excuse that they were aliens.

Five quarts of full-cream milk in every pound!

No wonder Tillamook Cheese is so rich and delicious. No wonder it is so high in food value—five quarts of full-cream milk go into the making of every pound!

Tillamook dairymen voluntarily asked for a law in Tillamook County which compels the rigid testing of every cow for health.

To make the finest cheese in the world, is the ideal of this little valley. For the past twelve years an expert cheese-maker has directed the testing of every cheese made in the twenty-four kitchens. Only those of highest quality are branded Tillamook! It must be the best or the name Tillamook will not be found on the rind.

Y.M.C.A. Going Afer Brick-Selling Record.

MASONS BUY LARGE ORDER.

Westlake Lodge to Build Miniature Memorial to Disabled Men.

Today will be observed by the Y.M.C.A. as its special day in connection with the disabled veterans' home fund and a concerted effort is being made by members of the association to round up a generous sum for the cause.

The Y.M.C.A. campaign is being carried on by means of letters and personal solicitation, and the amounts garnered will be accredited to a souvenir brick in the name of the association.

Remittances are to be sent direct to W. E. McVay, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust and Savings Bank, one of the directors of the Y.M.C.A.

The souvenir brick goals, which the various organizations are setting for their memberships are miniature bronze bricks at $50, silver-plated bricks at $100 and gold-plated bricks at $500 each. The large er organizations are not limiting their subscriptions, however, to one of these attractive trophies, nor are the individuals.

WESTLAKE MASONS BUY. Yesterday, an order for 1000 of the miniature terra cotta bricks at $1 each was sent to the campaign headquarters of the disabled veterans' home fund, 215 Coulter Building, by the Westlake Masonic Lodge No. 392.

These tiny bricks are to be used by the lodge for the building of a miniature home in the reading-room of the Masonic quarters, and will serve as a fitting memorial to all the boys who served in the World War.

Throughout the entire county yesterday patriotic meetings in behalf of the campaign were held. At the Friday Morning Club, Lieut. Burton Pitts, representing the Disabled Veterans of the World War, made an address before the members and additional subscriptions were later added to the organization's former contributions.

At the Republican Study Club in the afternoon Mrs. L. J. Selby and Capt. Harry Steinberg spoke in behalf of the campaign.

MEETING IN BAY CITY. Last evening the Santa Monica Bay Woman's Club featured a stirring patriotic meeting, at which Lieut. Robbie Bartley was the principal speaker.

Tomorrow there will be a big rally in Pasadena, Dr. Robert Freeman, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, having opened his church to the cause. Rupert Hughes will be the chief speaker and Capt. David Fallon and Lieut. Bartley will also take part in the program.

Plans for the benefit entertainment to be staged at the New Symphony Theater next Thursday morning under the auspices of the League of American Pen Women, are being completed. The theater is being given for a special performance of "Loving the Land" through the courtesy of Thomas H. Ince and Dr. H. B. Breckwelder, and preceding the showing of the picture there will be a number of other features.

GRAND JURY HEARS AUTO THEFT TALE. Federal Body Investigates Supposed Ring and Plot for Selling at Border.

The Federal grand jury began yesterday a drive against the big automobile stealing ring that has been operating along the Mexican border line, but no indictments were returned in the case. Fifteen witnesses from various points in Imperial Valley were before the grand jury and gave evidence in the matter.

The supposed ring being investigated is said to be one of the most important ever investigated by the Federal authorities. Almost 100 automobiles, most of them Fords, have been taken at various points in California, Texas, Nevada and New Mexico, driven to the border line and run across to Mexico, where the numbers on the engines were cleverly removed and the cars were then sold to the establishment where the machine was bought taken off, and numbers given to the machines corresponding with licenses secured at the places where the automobiles were taken.

The scheme is extensive and far reaching, Federal officials say, and indicates the management of an overseas, with agents all over this section of the country. A dozen of the machines have been identified by their owners.

Two indictments were returned yesterday for violation of the Harrison narcotic law.

Power Company Asks More Time on City Offer.

The Board of Public Service Commissioners must wait until after the meeting on the 23rd inst. of the board of directors of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation for an answer to the commissioners' offer to purchase the electric generating and distributing system of the corporation.

The board's notice to the corporation stated that an answer was desired by the 20th inst., but in view of the letter of the corporation which was read at yesterday's meeting of the commission, the city board will wait until the board of directors make reply to the offer.

FOR FORMAL OPENING. Six Hundred Expected to Dine Tonight at New Country Club.

With an elaborate supper-dance, the new $100,000 clubhouse of the California Country Club at Culver City, will have its formal opening this evening. Covers will be laid for 600 diners.

The new building, which is picturequely situated on a hill, commanding a panoramic view of the surrounding country, has a lounge-dining room, 40 by 75 feet, a main dining room, large entrance hall and card-room, all of which will be arranged into one large assembly-room for this evening's dinner-dance.

Notable features of the high-ceilinged lounge-dining room are a balcony extending along three sides from the second floor, and a split-level fireplace at one end.

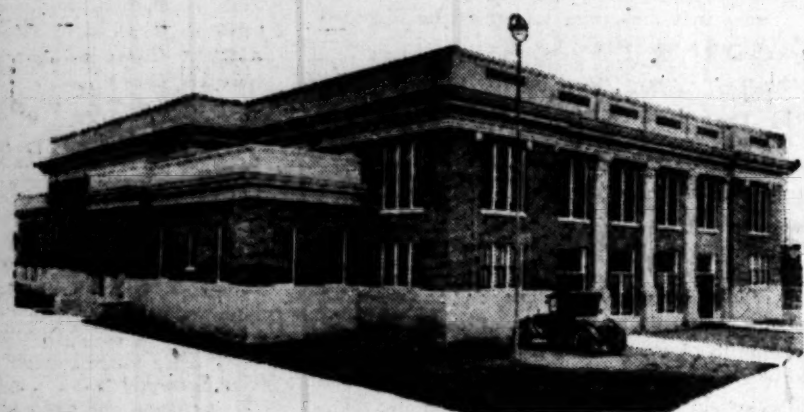

The clubhouse equipment includes lockers for 500 members, showers, swimming pool, tennis courts, children's playgrounds and practice putting greens. An expert groundskeeper, who was for nine years with a St. Louis club, has been employed for the golf course.

"SLAVE" CASE FAILS. Mann Act Charge Against Car Conductor is Dismissed.

After the examination of an additional witness yesterday, U. S. Commissioner Long dismissed the Mann white slave charge against Adelbert Nelson, a street car conductor of Ulica street, who was accused of bringing Mrs. Edith Hussey, a married woman, to this city for an immoral purpose. The testimony did not warrant the charge brought by an agent of the Department of Justice.

The son, Herbert Hussey, gave valuable testimony in favor of his mother.

NEUNER CORPORATION IS ENLARGING PLANT. Machinery valued at $25,000 for its engraving and lithographing departments has just been purchased, it was announced yesterday by the Neuner Corporation, which was organized in September, 1919, to take over the assets and business of the Neuner Company, which was dissolved Thursday by a decree of the Superior Court. The last concern was a holding company and it was no longer necessary to continue its existence, it is stated in connection with the dissolution order.

Lathed with Buttonlath (interior grade)

A Superior Lathing for School Buildings

Thousands of yards of Buttonlath have been used in the construction of hundreds of school buildings throughout Southern California. In direct competition with other lathing this superior plaster base was chosen because, besides being a perfect bond for plaster, its sound deadening qualities prevent echoing and transmission of noises. As a tested fire retardant it protects the lives of little school children, and in being impervious to both heat and cold, it maintains the class rooms at an even temperature. Naturally, if it's best for schools, it is best for your home. When building, tell your architect or builder—or order it direct from any lumber or building material dealer. Specify it by name—ask for the genuine Buttonlath.

Spring Time

This is the time of year when nature dons new clothes. The green fields, the leafing trees, and fruit blossoms all advertise a change in season.

It is only natural that we, too, should begin to think about laying aside our Winter garments for something more in tune with nature.

The changing season also suggests new things to eat. Just now there are new vegetables, which are always nature's best Spring tonic. Berries will soon be here in great abundance.

Fresh Vegetables, Fruits and Berries have always been a specialty with us.

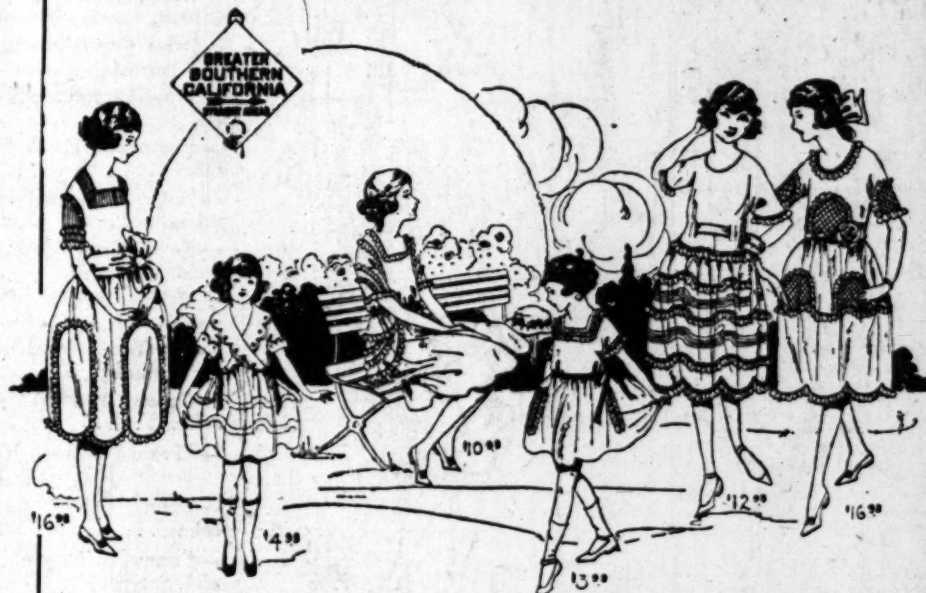

You are cordially invited to eat Breakfast, Luncheon and Dinner—where quality never varies—where Cleanliness is a habit.
